‘Education is not just about procuring milestones; it is about making a difference’

As education evolves, true success goes beyond academics—it lies in the skills we build, the values we uphold, the humility we practice, and the global mindset we nurture. Our school is more than a place of learning; it is a community shaping responsible, empathetic, and life long learners. Any Knowledge, gains true power when paired with integrity, kindness, and purpose. Let curiosity fuel our learning, challenges build resilience, and values define our character. My dear students, while endless opportunities await, humility and respect for diverse perspectives must remain our guiding principles.

Educators, as architects of transformation, instil empathy, discipline, and global awareness, shaping ethical and action-oriented citizens. Their dedication forms the foundation of our institution’s vision. At the same time, I believe, our Parent community plays a vital role in shaping our students’ moral compass. In this fast-paced, technology-driven world, their wisdom and value-based upbringing anchor children while they aim for the stars. Together, schools, teachers, and parents can raise individuals who are not only successful but also compassionate and socially responsible.

In this globalised world, success must extend beyond personal achievements to collective progress. Let us embrace global citizenship, fostering respect for cultures, sustainability, and a commitment to a better world.

Ms. Kavita Mehrotra

(Manager)

“As the world economy is growing, I believe that a nation’s growth is not only dependent on academic excellence and technological advancements, but also on holistically grown mindsets. Education is not merely about academic excellence; it is about nurturing well-rounded individuals who are curious, compassionate, and confident. At Bal Bhavan Public School, we remain committed to fostering an environment that cultivates intellectual curiosity, emotional intelligence, creativity, and a strong sense of ethics in every child.

In this well-rounded development, there lies a shared responsibility, and a synergy between parents, teachers, and the school which plays a pivotal role in shaping young minds. Teachers provide guidance and inspiration and parents by offer unwavering support and encouragement can help build a foundation where every child can thrive. In this journey, collaboration is key—when schools and families work hand in hand, learning becomes a joyful and enriching experience. As we move forward for yet another exciting year, let us continue to nurture a culture of learning, respect, and perseverance. Together, we can empower our children to become responsible, ready to embrace the future with confidence and integrity.”

THEIR POEMS, "THE SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS" AND "ECHOES OF HOPE IN SCATTERED SHADOWS," PUBLISHED IN THE DECEMBER 2ND EDITION OF CHAMPAK MAGAZINE

"The Spirit of Christmas"

Twinkling lights and falling snow,
Candies bright with a golden glow.
Holly leaves and mistletoe,
For Christmas bring joy to everyone.
Bells ring loud and bells ring clear,
Songs of cheer to please everyone.
Gifts wrapped with ribbon tight,
Hearts glow with pure delight.
Children's laughter fills the air,
Love and kindness everywhere.
Friends and family gathered here,
Spreading warmth, the time of year.
The time when all is joy and glad,
With creative play and love and glad.
We share in love this holy night,
For Christmas isn't just a day,
But a feeling that won't fade away.
A time to give, a time to care,
The spirit of Christmas, beyond compare.
Aarush Pathak
11 years, Delhi

"Echoes of Hope in Scattered Shadows"

In shadows where the sun seldom comes,
A quiet world in scattered beams.
What's hidden's not in cold and night,
But hope like a star in the night.
Empty rooms and silent trees,
Each step a battle, each smile a tear.
Children's laughter, a distant sound,
In the silence, despair is found.
Hush that in whisper, one day at night,
When the future will play its part,
A dream we put the light and hope,
For the darkness, hope, and a chance to start.
Bridges broken, paths uncertain,
The seeds of potential remain unseen,
Yet in the struggle, seeds will grow,
Of resilience, courage, and hearts made of gold.
We live in the web of indifference,
And learn to move without remorse.
The journey's long and the road is long,
With hope, compassion, and a future born.

ATL Sarthi Orientation

Shaping the Architects of Innovation

Bal Bhavan Public School had the distinguished honor of hosting the ATL Sarthi Orientation Programme—a flagship initiative by Atal Innovation Mission (AIM), NITI Aayog, aimed at strengthening the ATL ecosystem across India. The event witnessed the participation of educators and innovation mentors from 14 progressive schools across Delhi-NCR, united by a common vision: to transform young learners into future-ready innovators.

The orientation was a melting pot of ideas, strategies, and capacity building. The event commenced with a ceremonial welcome, followed by an address by the school Principal, Mr. Vividh Gupta, who emphasized the evolving role of teachers as guides, co-learners, and facilitators in 21st-century.

The orientation session featured engaging workshops and interactive sessions led by stalwarts in the field of STEM education and innovation:

- Mr. Shubham Gupta, Innovation Lead, AIM, NITI Aayog, who demystified the ATL Sarthi Framework, elaborating on its four pillars—Adoption, Adaptation, Utilization, and Improvement.
- Dr. Prabhjot Kaur Sabarwal, Assistant Professor of Food Technology at Shaheed Rajguru College of Applied Sciences, highlighted the importance of interdisciplinary approaches in ATL projects, linking food technology with design thinking, sustainability, and health-based innovations.
- Ms. Viji Sridhar, RMOC Delhi and ATL Sarthi Ambassador, led an energizing session on lab-based mentorship practices, emphasizing student-led exploration, empathetic problem-solving, and building prototypes.

Beyond the sessions, the orientation provided a platform for peer-to-peer learning. Teachers exchanged best practices, showcased student innovations from their respective labs, and discussed common challenges and context-specific solutions. Roundtable discussions fostered a spirit of collaboration over competition, reinforcing the idea that innovation thrives in a supportive, shared ecosystem.

Participants also experienced a tour to experience the school ATL lab, where they interacted with students demonstrating working prototypes, IoT-based solutions, and upcycled engineering models. Many expressed appreciations for the student-led models of problem-solving, rooted in local concerns and global perspectives.

The orientation concluded with an open Q&A session, encouraging participants to discuss practical challenges and brainstorm collaborative solutions. It reaffirmed a commitment to the ATL Sarthi vision—where every ATL mentor acts not only as a facilitator in their own school but as a catalyst of innovation in the broader community. Participants left with actionable toolkits, strategic planning templates, and renewed inspiration to make their labs vibrant centres of creativity and discovery.

ATL IPR and Patenting Workshop

The workshop Led by experts Mr. Gauri Dutt Sharma (Proprietor at GDS IP consultant) and Ms. Viji Sridhar (Regional Mentor of Change, Delhi), under ATL sarthi program was an initiative to introduce students and teachers to the concept of Intellectual Property Rights (IPR), patents, and design registration. Participants learned how to protect their innovations and the ethical aspects of research ownership.

Accolades and Recognition: Our Milestones

- School was awarded with ATL Community Day Certificate AIM, recognizing its commitment to community engagement and STEM excellence.

- School was honoured as ATL school of the Month for July 2024 & November 2024 in acknowledgement to the exemplary ATL practices that foster creativity and problem-solving.

Grade VIII Students Explore Law and Order at Pandav Nagar Police Station

The students of grade VIII procured an opportunity to visit Pandav Nagar Police Station in the month of February, as part of an educational initiative to understand the roles, responsibilities, and effectiveness of law enforcement in maintaining safety and order. The visit provided students with firsthand exposure to the functioning of a police station and the various duties performed by officers to uphold justice. Upon arrival, the students were warmly welcomed by the Station House Officer (SHO) and police personnel, who introduced them to the daily operations of the station. The officers elaborated on key aspects of policing, including the process of filing an FIR, conducting investigations, managing traffic regulations, and handling cybercrime cases. The students also toured the control room, complaint registration desk, and CCTV surveillance unit, gaining insights into how technology plays a crucial role in real-time monitoring and crime prevention.

One of the most engaging moments of the visit was the interactive Q&A session with the SHO, where students inquired about the challenges faced by the police, career opportunities in law enforcement, and ways young citizens can contribute to a safer society. The officers shared inspiring stories of their service, emphasizing the importance of discipline, vigilance, and public cooperation in maintaining law and order. MY MOTHER

My mama, my sunshade,
She's the best & true
She makes me knowledgeable,
With the concepts simple and new-
She hugs me tight,
When I feel blue
With her guidance,
Every danger flew.
My lovely mama,
Love you more than everything,
Thank you for love & care
And keep that going...

MATHS ALMERICK

Oh math so confusing
I'm baffled in this subject
Multiply, divide, subtract and add
All these problems make me mad!

Percent, decimals, time and money
Oh, it is such a phony!
I'm stuck between these problems every night
Oh, it is such a plight!

Some people think it's easy
But for me it's hard
Oh math oh math
Why are you so confusing?

GOLDEN DAYS

Sun-kissed mornings, a carefree sight,
A world of wonder, pure and bright.
Childhood's magic, a sweet embrace,
A time of innocence, a peaceful space.
Barefoot wanderings, through fields of green,
Laughter echoing, a joyful scene.
Building castles, of sand and air,
Lost in dreams, without a care.
Twinkling stars, a midnight sky,
Stories whispered, a lullaby.
A time of wonder, a time of grace,
A golden era, a cherished place.
Though years have passed, the memories stay,
A golden hue, that lights the way.
A nostalgic glance, a wistful sigh,
For those sweet days, beneath the sky.

MEADOW SURPRISES

Meadow have surprises,
You can find them if you look;
Walk softly through the velvet grass,
And listen by the brook.

You may see a butterfly
Rest upon a buttercup
And unfold its drinking straws
To sip the nectar up.

You may scare a rabbit
Who is sitting very still;
Thought at first you may not see him,
When he hops you will

A dandelion whose fuzzy head
Was golden days ago
Has turned to airy parachute
That flutter when you blow.

The poem of the missing socks

I wake up a morning, all set to go,
But a socks was missing, where did it go?
Its twin was still there, of my foot,
But the other disappeared, oh what a hoot!
I asked the dryer, did you eat it last night?
But it replied coldly, are you alright?
I checked the closet & the floor,
I also searched behind every door.
Did it join the circus or went to the moon?
Because I can't remember where was it last noon.
So if you lose a socks, don't you fear,
It must be having fun, just grab a new pair.
The mystery is solved but one thing is true,
That socks lives a life, we never know.

SOLAR SYSTEM

Stars have shine, sun is bright,
When we see them, we automatically get fine.
In the night, we watch the moon bright.
It is a beautiful sight to see the sun bright.

We can go on moon that looks like a ball,
But we cannot see from there a shopping mall.

स्कूल हमारा सबसे महान

शिक्षा ज्ञान का है भंडार,
स्कूल हमारा सबसे महान
गुरुजनो की छाया में,
मिलता है हमें सारा ज्ञान
स्कूल में आते हैं दोस्त,
मस्ती, पढाई, और डांट की डोज
यहां सीखते हैं जीवन जीना,
आगे बढ़ना, तान के सीना।
ज्ञान के बिना ना कल, ना आज,
ज्ञान जो देते हैं प्यारे शिक्षक,
वही है हमारे स्कूल की शान,
हम बच्चों का है कर्तव्य,
सीखें अच्छी बातें, हर रोज।
प्रेम और मेल से रहे सभी,
और शिक्षा का हो पूरा मन।
सपने अपने पुरे करना,
जिसे बढे स्कूल का मान
हम उचाईयों पर जायेंगे,
स्कूल का नाम गौरवशाली बनाएंगे,
और फिर से एक बार,
शिक्षा ज्ञान का है भंडार,
स्कूल हमारा सबसे महान

THE INDIAN CLASSICAL DANCES THAT ONCE SHINED

In rhythm's grace, the soul takes flight,
A dance that speaks through day and night.
With every step, the stories bloom,
Of gods, of love, of ancient gloom.
Kathak spins with tales so divine,
Of Krishna's dance, of love's design.
The ghungroos sing as feet tap fast,
A history in every cast.
Bharatanatyam, in silence bold,
A sacred dance from days of old.
With arangetrams and jathithe story told,
Through mudras, eyes, and stances cold.
Kuchipudi flows with fluid grace,
A river's dance, a sacred space.
In every leap, a story's birth,
A dialogue between sky and earth.
Odissi, gentle, yet full of fire,
Waves in the air, a dance of desire.
From Eastern shores, it paints the light,
Of moonlit nights and stars so bright.
Mohiniyattam, the feminine art,
A dance that captures the heart.
Grace and charm in every pose,
A goddess's spirit it bestows.
In temples, streets, beneath the sky,
Dance brings the spirit soaring high.
Thousands of dancetake place like Manipuri,
Kathakali and Sattriya who embrace,
In every motion, with endless grace.

A SPARK WITHIN

In darkness, a light flicker bright
A beacon of hope, in the black of night
A spark within, that refuses to fade
A flame that burns, with a gentle shade

It whispers softly, of a brighter day
When fears and doubts, will fade away
When dreams and desires, will take flight
And the heart will sing, with pure delight

Hope is the anchor, that holds us fast
The guiding star, that shines through the past
It leads us forward, through uncertain times
And fills our souls, with a gentle rhyme

Through life's storms and challenges, it stands tall
A constant reminder, that we will not fall
For hope is the voice, that whispers "you can"
A gentle nudge, that helps us to plan

So let us hold on, to this spark within
And let it guide us, through life's joys and spin
For hope is the key, that unlocks the door
To a brighter tomorrow, and a life we adore

In the face of adversity, it shines so bright
A beacon of light, that guides us through the night
And when the darkness fades, and the sun starts to rise
Hope is the voice, that whispers "a new day arrives"

So let us cherish hope, and hold it close to our hearts
For it is the spark, that sets our souls apart

And with hope as our guide, we'll face whatever comes our way
And shine like the stars, on a brighter day

Through the ups and downs, of life's twisting road
Hope is the compass, that helps us find our way back home
It's the fire that burns, within our hearts and soul
Guiding us forward, to a brighter goal

So let us hold on to hope, and never let it fade
For it's the light that shines, in the darkest of shades
And with hope by our side, we'll face the unknown with cheer
And find our way, to a brighter year

In the silence of night, when fears and doubts creep in
Hope is the whisper, that calms the heart and soothes the skin
It's the gentle breeze, that rustles the leaves of our mind
Reminding us of peace, and a love that's always kind

So let us cherish hope, and hold it close to our hearts
For it's the spark that sets, our souls apart
And with hope as our guide, we'll face whatever comes our way
And shine like the stars, on a brighter day.

THE PATH OF HUMILITY

In the quiet dawn of morning light,
Where shadows dance and dreams take flight,
There lies a virtue, pure and bright,
A crown of humility, shining white.
Not in the boast of deeds well done,
True greatness lies, second to none.
A gentle word, a helping hand,
A soul that strives to understand,
In these small acts, so humbly planned,
The seeds of greatness firmly stand.
For those who walk this humble road,
Carry not a heavy load,
Their worth in kindness is bestowed,
In every heart, their love is sowed.
Humility, the quiet song,

In every heart, where it belongs,
Invites us all to sing along,
In the chorus of life, where we all belong.
Humility, the unseen thread,
Weaves through the lives of those who've led.
Not by force, nor by demand,
But by the touch of a gentle hand.
So let us walk with humble grace,
In every step, a warm embrace,
For in humility, we trace,
The truest form of human race.

BIODIVERSITY- THE SYMPHONY OF LIFE

Broken bottles are everywhere, with the plastic bags
Charred pieces of glasses, with the boxes of fags.
Ripping out plants, tearing down trees
Is this the environment surrounding me?

We humans, don't own the planet Earth,
Mother Earth is only who gave us birth.
There is so much diversity of life in different lands
Living things have different needs,
So they live where, their needs are met.

Plastic in the sea, choking biodiversity with terror,
Pollution suffocating the organisms, due to human error
Plants are dying, they are crying
Human is only one, who make a change
& harmony in biodiversity won.

Let's see, what we can do
To save the planet for me & you
We should live in harmony,

With biological diversity

Let's make a try, to make the mother Earth pretty
Before it is late, we need to save the biodiversity.

The trees and plants, we cut in vanity
Is this what becomes our humanity?
Don't try to make the environment poor,
Mother nature is a strict judge,
She won't forgive the wrong doer.

Lets Celebrate the biodiversity,
to enlighten the flora- fauna specialty
Really, it's a god's miracle,
Most valuable resource it is!
Then why man least appreciate it?
Lets give honour to this wonder,
& became diversity fonder.

Let's together save the biodiversity,
To make the mother Earth more pretty
Sing the euphoria of biodiversity,
God gives rare one,
this reassure opportunity

एक कदम शिक्षा की ओर

चलो जलाएं दीप वो, जो अंधकार हर ले,
ज्ञान की ज्योति से, जग को उजाला कर दे।
तिक्षा का मंत्र, जो हर दिल में गूंजे,
हर एक को अधिकार दे, सपनों को पूजे।
बिन शिक्षा के जीवन, अधूरा सा लगता है,
जैसे पंछी बिना पर, उड़ने से डरता है।
पर जब ज्ञान का सूरज उगता है जीवन में,
हर मुश्किल का हल, मिल जाता है मन में।
चलो उठाएं कलम, किताबें थाम लें,
शिक्षा के पथ पर, कदम बढ़ा लें।
हर गांव, हर शहर, हर कोने को संवारें,
ज्ञान की गंगा बहा कर, हर दिल को निखारें।
शिक्षा है वो ताकत, जो जंजीरें तोड़ दे,
अज्ञान के अंधेरे को, चकनाचूर कर दे।
लड़की हो या लड़का, सबका है ये हक,
हर बालक को मिले, शिक्षा का सच्चा वर्क।
न जाति, न धर्म, न भाषा की दीवार हो,
शिक्षा के मंदिर में, सबका अधिकार हो।
हर बच्चे की आंखों में चमके वो नूर,
जो दे उन्हें हौसला, कर दे दिल को गुर्रर।
सपने देखो बड़े, और उड़ान भरो,
ज्ञान के पंखों से, अपना जहां गढो।
जो मिला है आज, वो आगे बढ़ाओ।
शिक्षा की इस ज्योति को, हर दिल में जगाओ।
तो चलो मिलकर, एक कदम बढ़ाएं,
शिक्षा के इस पथ पर, सबको ले जाएं।
बनाएं ऐसा समाज, जहां हो सिर्फ उजाला,
हर दिल में बसे, शिक्षा का प्याला।
शिक्षा है आधार, जीवन का सार,
चलो इसे अपनाएं, करें नया संसार।

A Girl who Struggled All Her Life

She woke up every morning, with tears in her eyes,
A life of struggle, of trials and sighs.
She faced each day with courage, though worn and weak,
Her spirit unbroken, her heart still meek.
She walked through storms, with feet bare and cold,
Her path uncertain, her future untold.
She searched for hope, in a world dark and grey,
And found solace in kindness, along the way.
With every step forward, she rose above the pain,
And discovered strength, she never knew she could gain.
She learned to love herself, through all her flaws and fears,
And found her voice, through all her doubts and tears.
Her story's one of resilience, of a heart that wouldn't break,
A testament to the human spirit, that forges its own way.
Though life may bring its struggles, and darkness may descend,
She proved that courage and hope, can be a guiding light to mend.
So let her story inspire, and be a beacon of light,
For all who struggle, through the darkest of nights.
May her courage and strength, be a reminder to face,
The challenges of life, with a heart that's brave and a spirit that's in its place.

Growing Steps

With each step forward, a new path unfurls,
Dreams taking flight, like butterflies that swirl.
Through challenges faced and trials we meet,
Our journey of growth is ever so sweet.
Every stride carries a tale untold,
Of courage and strength, of hearts bold.
We rise with the dawn, with a spirit so grand,
Together we march, hand in hand.
Our dreams are the stars that light up the night,
Guiding us onward, shining so bright.
With hope in our hearts and resolve in our eyes,
We conquer the heights, reaching for the skies.
Each step we take is a promise we keep,
A vow to ourselves, dreams we cherish deep.
In the garden of life, as we grow and expand,
These growing steps are what make us stand.

Rising crime rates, economic disparities, and the growing threat of climate change present significant obstacles to achieving global progress, including the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). The surge in robberies, despite advanced security measures like cameras, reflects the inadequacy of traditional solutions in addressing modern challenges. Economic instability has left many people struggling for basic needs like food and shelter, exacerbating social inequalities. Meanwhile, climate change continues to disrupt agricultural patterns, negatively impacting crop productivity and farmer livelihoods. These challenges demand innovative and scalable solutions. Artificial Intelligence (AI) emerges as a transformative tool capable of tackling these interconnected issues. AI-powered smart sensors can detect suspicious activities and enhance on-road safety, while panic buttons in vehicles can enable quick reporting and response to crimes. Such advancements bring new hope for improving personal and public security.

AI also holds immense potential for addressing SDGs by fostering environmental sustainability and bridging economic gaps. For instance, AI-enabled pollution tracking devices can encourage individuals and communities to adopt eco-friendly practices through incentive-based systems. Similarly, AI can reduce economic disparities by increasing access to education through personalized learning platforms and enhancing healthcare via affordable diagnostics and treatment solutions. Additionally, AI-driven financial tools, like microloans and mobile banking, can empower underprivileged communities with essential resources. In agriculture, AI can support farmers by providing user-friendly tools to monitor soil and crop health, predict weather changes, and optimize yields. These interventions can help mitigate the adverse effects of climate change while promoting sustainable farming practices. Despite financial and technological barriers, the strategic use of AI, combined with collective efforts and resilience, can address these pressing global issues. By leveraging its capabilities, humanity can work towards a safer, equitable, and sustainable future.

From Heartbreak to Triumph The Path to Glory

In 2023, we won each game,
But in the final, our hopes were lost.
The dream of gold, a fleeting flame,
We felt the pain and bore the cost.

Yet we did not give up the fight,
We aimed for 2024's bright day.
In T20, we found our light,
And won the Cup in grand display.

But one more test still lies ahead,
A battle fierce, a prize so grand.
The Champions Trophy calls again,
To rise once more, we take our stand.

To wear the crown, we must erase
The past that sings of victories gone.
A champion's mind must not embrace
The weight of glories once hard-won.

Through every match, we give our best,
Our hearts are strong, our spirits high.
When the time is right, the test
Will bring success-no need to try.

धरा को स्वर्ग कैसे बनाएंगे

त्रेता में था एक रावण
द्वापर में था एक दुर्योधन
शकुनि भी एक ही था
पर आज आया है कलयुग
पग पग पर रावण मिल जाते हैं
दुर्योधनों की फौज खड़ी है
आते जाते शकुनि राह टोकते
अपनों का ही घर फूंकते
दीमक की तरह चाटते हमें
भ्रष्टाचार और महंगाई का आलम
जात-पात और वर्ग विभाजन
ले जाता हमको गर्त के भीतर

क्या हम बने रहेंगे मूर्ख दर्शक
करेंगे नहीं कुछ कदम बढ़ाकर
क्या खून का रंग बताता है वर्ग
मित्रों के चेहरों से पता चलता है जाति या वर्ण
क्या जरूरी है रिश्त देकर काम निकालना
औरों का गला घोटकर अपना संसार सजाना
क्या परिवर्तन नहीं है संभव

नई पीढ़ी है हमने जोश से भरे
नहीं देंगे रिश्त
नहीं करेंगे समझौता
अवसरवाद और भ्रष्टाचार नहीं होगा हावी हमपर
आएगा बदलाव जब नया खून उठेगा
सब चलता है को छोड़ अपनी जड़े मजबूत बनाएगा

तभी देश बड़ेगा
तभी हम बढ़ेंगे
तभी शहीदों का खून बेकार नहीं जाएगा
प्रण हमारा होगा यही आज
ना करेंगे गलत ना होने देंगे कभी
बनेंगे ईमानदार परिश्रमी और भावशील
अपनी धारा को हम स्वर्ग बनाए सकेंगे तभी

THE FLAMES OF FREEDOM

Beneath the skies of Bharat's grace,
They rose to claim their rightful space.
With courage firm, hearts afire,
Freedom's call was their sole desire.
Gandhi walked with truth his guide,
Nonviolence strong, his nation's pride.
Nehru dreamed of a future bright,
A tryst with destiny's guiding light.
Bhagat Singh, a fiery soul,
His martyr's blood, a nation's goal.
Netaji led with valor untamed,
For freedom's cause, his life he claimed.

Rani of Jhansi, sword in hand,
Fought for her people, her sacred land.
Tilak roared, "Freedom's our right!"
His words ignited a nation's fight.
Each voice, a note in freedom's song,
Together they made the weak feel strong.
Through trials fierce, their spirits soared,
For Mother India, they drew the sword.
Today we stand, their dream alive,
Their sacrifice helps us thrive.
Let's honor them, their legacy flame,
And strive to glorify their name.

The Shape I Cannot Out Run

I met my shadow late last night.

It moved beneath the pale streetlight. No face, no voice, no hands, no soul, Yet somehow, it still felt whole.

"Why do you follow?" I asked the shade. "Do you not wish to walk away?"

It sighed and said in a voice low, "I stay because you won't let go."

"Let go of what?" I frowned, confused. "I never asked, never chose."

It whispered back like a thought,

"You hold on more than you know you ought."

"But I don't see you when it's dark."

I spoke the words and watched it start. It only laughed, then seemed to weep, "I never left, you chose to sleep."

"Are you my fear?" I asked at last. "The weight I carry from my past?"

It stretched and bent but did not break, "I am the part you wish to shake."

"And if I leave you far behind?"

I searched its shape but found just mine. It spoke, its voice both calm and clear. "Without me there, would you be here?"

I turned away and walked ahead.

My shadow moved where my feet tread.

It did not speak, did not fight, Yet it never left, not even in light.

Some things don't fade, though time goes on. Some voices stay, though the sound is gone.

Wherever light or darkness falls, A shadow waits behind us all.

Whispers Of Humility

It's not about thinking less of yourself

But thinking of yourself less

It's about serving those in need

And who are underprivileged and in mess

Silence doesn't connote you are deplorable

It's the strength of the being

Babbling bout what you won , shows the pride

For a truly humble one's attainment can't be perceived

Roots anchor deep , with silent grace

Supporting trees that reach for space

For a person can never be efficacious

Until humility is in his personality's foundation and base

When your toil seems unseen and recognition slow

Remember the steadfast stars , that in the darkness glow

It's brilliance clear though hidden by the night

The greatest often in shadow lie.

Our wonderful nature is our preeminent bequest

The river that slowly traces its path and never rest

Loads of lessons from it we could inculcate you never know

Be just like a bamboo ,the higher it grows , the deeper it bows

Lost in a Book, Found in Reality

Reading is frequently described as a portal- a portal to different worlds, perspectives and lives. But what if the mere act of getting lost in a book helps in one finding themselves in reality? Books aren't just for entertainment, it is more than often that they shape our view of the world, mold our mind and guide our heart, making us more empathetic, knowledgeable, and self-aware. Books serve as both mirrors—reflecting our own sentiments, hardships, and ambitions—and windows, offering us a glimpse into lives and experiences vastly different from our own. When we are able to identify with a character's journey and beliefs, we feel validated; when we explore new cultures and perspectives, we grow more sympathetic and passionate. For example, work like The Midnight Library by Matt Haig or Days at the Morisaki Bookshop by Satoshi Yagisawa provides deep insights into introspection, ambition, and the choices that shape our lives. The journey of the protagonists in the above-mentioned books was mainly focused on self-discovery and redefining their values and beliefs. Through their experiences, we confront lingering feelings of uncertainty and often emerge with newfound perspectives on our own values and beliefs. Each book we read leaves a lasting impact on us. The insights we acquire, the emotions we navigate, and the characters we engage with all shape our sense of self. Readers frequently see themselves in protagonists, finding motivation in their resilience and learning from their challenges. Stories weave themselves into our hearts, making characters feel like old friends. When we immerse ourselves in a book, we don't just follow a plot—we experience it. Fictional emotions become our own, strengthening our empathy and deepening our understanding of those around us. Paradoxically, getting lost in books often leads to discovering more about ourselves. Fiction, in particular, serves as a reflection of our dreams, fears, and aspirations, allowing us to explore different paths in life from the safety of its pages. The Alchemist by Paulo Coelho inspires readers to pursue their ambitions and redefine success on their own terms. Sense and Sensibility by Jane Austen on the other hand is more sentimental and gives the message that the brain and the heart are equally important: neither should be neglected in favour of the other. When we witness characters overcoming obstacles, we internalize their resilience, strengthening our own belief in perseverance. To sum up, losing yourself in a book isn't about escaping reality—it's about enriching it. Literature broadens our minds, nurtures empathy, and deepens our understanding of both the world and ourselves. So the next time you turn a page, remember: the journey through a story might just bring you closer to who you truly are.

Happy reading!!
